Suggested financial contributions towards accommodation and meals

The Shrine aims at allowing people seeking respite to come and stay, and not be hindered by financial aspects.

Like monasteries, shrines offer hospitality. They endeavour to meet people's spiritual needs and quest. By offering catering amenities and accommodation, the Shrine of Our Lady of Montligeon strives to suitably receive hosts seeking spiritual respite, or meaning to their life, or to simply "do good" to their soul.

The financial issue must in no case be a hindrance. Thus you will find herewith suggestions of financial contributions that will help us meet our expenses. Priests, monks or nuns, as well as large families, students or unemployed people, are to contribute according to their means. We also would like to remind you that partaking in domestic tasks is most welcome (cleaning your room, table clearing after meals, or cleaning your self-catering cottage before you leave, etc.).
